

6516205427.txt

XM Satellite is great and must be able to continue and grow even against local competition. You already screwed-up DIRECTV with forcing people to use antennas instead of receiving out of market stations. Do not put any blockers on XM, force the competition to compete honestly and fairly, not receive preferential treatment. Again, leave XM Satellite alone and let the free market of supply and demand determine what the consumer prefers.